RELIABLE BY DESIGN

Roller-delayed blowback firearms are known for their reliability under the most extreme conditions. Special operations personnel have employed them for decades in the harshest environments on the planet, and in the most demanding crisis situations.

Zenith's production of this legendary platform is by MKE. With more than 40 years of experience manufacturing roller-delayed firearms using original tooling, dies and data, MKE's products deliver the exact performance that veteran users have come to expect.

Each Zenith product is configured to meet your specific mission requirements, and all models can be built for semi-automatic-only or select-fire operation.

A MULTI-MISSION PLATFORM

Whether you're working on a Protective Services Detail, clearing rooms in an urban environment, or engaging targets at intermediate ranges in open terrain, Zenith has a roller-delayed firearm that is appropriate for your task.

Additionally, due to the popularity of this platform, aftermarket accessories that improve ergonomics and enhance performance are widely available.

FIRST-RATE SUPPORT

Zenith Firearms stands behind its agency products with a three-year warranty, and warranty extension packages are available for purchase. As roller-delayed blowback specialists, we employ talented, experienced gunsmiths who perform maintenance, repair, modification, customization and refurbishing services on all makes and models of similar design.

We also offer a full line of spare parts.
